Detectives are investigating the suspicious death of two people found in a home at 1730 NW 109 Avenue.

On Wednesday, September 10, 2025, at 4:30 p.m., Pembroke Pines police officers and fire rescue responded to a 911 call reporting an unconscious and unresponsive man, inside of a garage. Responding officers found the man, Octavis Myers, who appeared to be deceased for some time.

To ensure there were no others in need of assistance, officers searched the home and found a deceased woman in a bedroom. The identity of the woman is being withheld until next of kin has been notified.

Although it is early in the investigation, preliminary information suggests that their deaths are criminal in nature.

Isaiah Collins is the 27 year old the grandson of the homeowner and frequently lives with his grandmother. There is concern for Isaiah's wellbeing since his whereabouts are unknown. We ask our community members and media partners for their assistance in providing any information that could lead to the safe location of Isaiah Collins.

Detectives will continue the investigation, and additional information will be released when updates are available. A photograph of Isaiah Collins appears below.
